SAGINAW MEN VISIT GRAYLING

Members of the Saginaw Wholesale Merchants bureau were hosts to the business men and others here Wednesday night. They arrived in autos which included one large bus. Upon their arrival the visitors made calls upon the merchants handling their lines of trade, "just to get better acquainted." Most of them didn't need any introduction for there were many friendships that had endured over many decades and the meetings were most cordial and friendly. While this was going on from the large bus there was being passed out horns and souvenirs to the youngsters and soon everyone was blowing for Saginaw. And their band rendered a number of selections that were enjoyed.

Always among a group of that kind there are some who would rather play golf than eat and they soon located our golf course where they had to play one round and a variety of scores were turned in and a few balls left among the roughs.

At 6:30 a procession formed at the hotel and marched to Michelson Memorial church where the wholesalers were hosts to a very fine banquet, served by the ladies of that church. It was a happy throng that sat around the tables and a lot of good natured cracks were sprung upon one another.

Of course there were talks. The hosts took charge of the meeting and the first to be called upon was Mayor Chris W. Olsen of Grayling. The latter took the opportunity to tell of some of the splendid attractions about Grayling and of the hopes and ideals of our citizens.

Dr. Keyport, vice president of Grayling Board of Trade regretted that President T. W. Hanson wasn't present so that he might give a more lucid picture of Grayling's outdoor attractions. He recalled the fine spirit of friendship existing between the citizens of Saginaw and Grayling.

Marius Hanson also emphasized the fact that the feeling between the citizens of these two cities was of the finest.

J. W. Symons of Symons Bros. & Co., Saginaw discussed some of the problems existing between the home-town merchants and chain stores.

Mark Brown of the Garber-Buick Co., of Saginaw said he had been coming here for about 40 years and that he considered himself a citizen of Grayling. He is a member of the Recreation club on the AuSable and told of the big benefits of having a place to go to where the safety valve of nervous energy and hustle might be let loose, where business cares might be forgotten and life renewed and prolonged. He has long known of the blessings of the north country and is a strong booster for Grayling's resort opportunities.

Charles W. Haensel, secretary of Saginaw Chamber of Commerce, quoted very interesting statistics relative to the home-town merchants, the department stores, mail order houses, chain stores and the inexperienced merchants whose only hope of getting business was by price-cutting methods. He cited that the number of chain-store systems had been reduced in the past two years but that the number of units (retail stores) had been increased. But in spite of that increase of their retail stores the volume of business of the chain stores had greatly decreased. And that the volume of business of the legitimate, experienced merchants had greatly increased. He suggested that keener purchasing of merchandise, more modern methods of store management, consistent advertising and more care in the offering of credits could materially help legitimate retail merchants to cope with the chain stores, peddlers, mailorder houses and those who would offer price only as an inducement for trade. The chain stores, according to Mr. Haensel, are fast slipping and can no longer be considered the menace to merchandising that it formerly was. His talk was an inspiration to the merchants who heard him, and was based upon facts gathered by the Department of Commerce at Washington and were reliable.

The visitors remained in Grayling for the night and the evening was spent among their friends here. The following morning (Thursday) many again availed themselves of the opportunity to play golf, before continuing their journey to other towns.

Their itinerary took them to the towns along the Lake Huron shore north to Cheboygan, returning by way of U. S. 27. They left Saginaw Monday morning and will reach home tonight (Thursday). By these men the following Saginaw business places were represented:

American State Bank—H. B. Arnold; Barrett Paper Co.—E. W. Reinice; Boothe & Boyd Lumber Co.—Carl A. Bornheimer; Bliss-Alger Business College—G. I. Nipress; Consolidated Coal Co.—S. E. CO. TO GET $22,928 FROM TAX COM.

It will be glad news for the taxpayers to learn that the County treasurer has been notified that he will soon receive the sum of $22,928.00 from the State Tax commission in payment for the filing of additional Michigan Central railroad mortgage tax in this county. One half of this amount must be returned to the State treasurer leaving $11,464.00 to be distributed among the townships of Crawford county.

About ten years ago due to the influence of O. F. Barnes of Lansing the original mortgage tax bond was filed with our county at which time a similar fee came into our hands. The bond at that time was filed here upon the promise that the revenue coming from it be used for highway construction only. The law requires that the county in which the bond is first filed is the one to receive the tax payment, and we were the lucky one. And because of that we are now to receive this additional tax fund. The money hasn't yet been received but when it does come it will be most welcome.

50 PLANES START AIR TOUR MON.

The First Michigan Air Tour will leave Pontiac next Monday, June 10, and will circle the state, touching at all cities on and near the shores of the Great Lakes.

The only full stop of the tour between Muskegon and Petoskey will be at Cadillac on June 12 when every one of the 50 planes in the tour will alight on the new flying field at Saunders Airport, where they will remain for more than two hours, including the landing and take-off time.

Cadillac has invited all residents within easy motoring distance to assist in making up the crowd of 15,000 visitors expected for the afternoon. The first plane is scheduled to land at 1:50. They will come down at intervals of one minute. The last plane will hop off at 4:30.

The galaxy of planes is said to be the largest number flown together since the aerial mobilization during the World War.

NEIGHBORING COUNTY WILL DEDICATE HER AIRPORT ON JUNE 13TH

People of Grayling, Crawford county, and all northern Michigan have been invited to be present when Emmet county dedicates her new county airport on the forenoon of Thursday, June 13th. Emmet expects to be the first county in Michigan to dedicate a field under the provisions of the new Michigan aviation law, and Governor Green, who with Mrs. Green will be on the Michigan Air Tour which will conduct the service, has been asked to speak. Department of Commerce officials also will speak. Robert Tripp, chairman of the Emmet county board of supervisor's airport committee, will be chairman.

The Michigan Air Tour will land at the airport the afternoon of Wednesday, June 12th, the 50 planes coming down one at a time to be placed in position by Homer Zipp, Petoskey, former world war flyer, who is the official manager of the tour. They are booked to arrive at 4:30 o'clock Eastern Standard time at the field, which is about six miles north of Petoskey on the road from Harbor Springs.

Visitors will be admitted to the field for the landing of the planes, reception of the Tour officials, Governor Green and government officials and visiting tourists. Parking tags are being provided for automobiles, and the car with its entire party may be driven right onto the field. Car parking tickets are already on sale at 50 cents each. There is no admission charge and the car parking ticket is good for as many visits to the field on June 12 and 13th as the car party cares to make.

Wednesday evening, June 12th, a big banquet will be held at the Hotel Perry in Petoskey, where places will be arranged for 300 at a very delightful dinner. Tickets are on sale at the Petoskey and Harbor Springs Chambers of Commerce at $2.00 per plate. A number of government officials and Governor Green have been invited to speak.

The Emmet county airport is located halfway between Petoskey and Harbor Springs on the concrete paved highway. It is between the highway and Lake Michigan, with the land so arranged that no matter what direction the wind, planes may take off properly. The field is being properly marked, telephones installed and other conveniences arranged. For the dedication it will be fenced, so that the spectators will not get out onto the runways. The field will be open Wednesday evening for inspection and it is understood that plane pilots will be there to explain the fine points of their machines. Airplane rides also, are being arranged for.

WORKMAN CAUGHT IN CLAM SHOVEL

NECK AND LEG BROKEN. DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

William Shearer, 48 years, lost his life Monday when he was scooped up by the clam shovel belonging to Alex Jeffrey, paving contractor, while unloading sand near the lumber yards. Shearer was in the car when the shovel was let down by the operator who was unaware of his presence there. As the operator was about to drop the load into the sand hopper he noticed Shearer in the clam. When taken out it was found that his neck and one leg were broken. He was hurried to Mercy Hospital but died before reaching there. He was a farmer residing near Sterling.

When sand or gravel cars are loaded at the pits it is placed in three piles in the cars. When unloaded by clam scoops operated from power cranes, the operator starts at one of the end piles. After this is removed the car is pushed ahead. Then it is that the crane nor the clam scoop can reach beyond the second pile of sand or gravel and men working in the vacant end of the car are safe from being struck.

Just how Shearer happened to be in the car nobody seems to know. The car was loaded and had just been placed in position on the track and the operator started to unload from one corner of the car as usual, just where Shearer happened to be. It is believed that he had been sitting or lying in the corner of the car and possibly was asleep. His presence there was contrary to rules and it appears that if there was carelessness on the part of anyone it was himself.

ANGLERS FLY TO GRAYLING STREAMS

DETROITERS GET 47 TROUT FROM MANISTEE RIVER, TRIP MADE IN TWO HOURS

Forty-seven brook trout—among the finest specimens to be found in the waters of the Manistee river, near Grayling, last week, bit on hooks cast by two Detroit anglers who traveled to and from their stream by air.

When Lieutenant Walter E. Nicol, engineering officer of the 107th Observation squadron, Michigan National Guard, and Miss Lucille Borts, 4851 Commonwealth avenue, landed at the Detroit city airport, their Travel Air biplane was laden with 32 of the 47. All of the fish, Lieutenant Nicol reported, were between eight and 11 inches in length, and were caught in little more than one full day of fishing.

By road, Grayling is about 230 miles from Detroit, and requires between seven and 10 hours to drive. By air it is approximately 190 miles. Lieutenant Nicol and Miss Borts traveled from the city airport to Grayling in two hours.

The return flight was made in one hour and 50 minutes. During their stay in Grayling the couple visited Mr. and Mrs. George Collen, of Lake Margrethe.

"There were a number of fishermen up there," Lieutenant Nicol said, "who had driven up from Detroit. They seemed much interested in the modern way of getting to and from the fish haunts, being particularly impressed with the time saved in transit. Our trip was proof of the airplane as a contribution to the wild life side of the sporting world."—Detroit Free Press.

Masquerading

There are all sorts of masquerades held in this world but none so funny and so tragic as that parade consisting of all those sects and individuals who are dressed up like the real thing. In fact, one of the misfortunes of Christianity is, that every possible scheme of personal or national advantage, has appeared in the trappings of the Christian Gospel.

In a certain book on Slavery, we read part of an eloquent address given in Congress in the good old days:

"I believe the institution of slavery is a noble one; that it is necessary to the good, the well-being of the Negro race. Looking into history, I will go further and say that I believe it is God's institution."

Here is a dreadful thing dressed up in nice Christian apparel. The masquerade is on. But have we ever thought that there may be things we stand for today, and insist that they are Christian, which tomorrow, in the eyes of the world of decent men and women, will look like the farce that they really are. Let us beware of masquerading.

COMMUNITY LOYALTY

BEING loyal to the community in which we live is but another term for selfishness. At least that is the way it works out according to our line of reasoning. Being loyal to our home town is certain to help it grow, and as it grows and prospers every member of the community will be benefited.

As the business and social life of the community advances, permitting and presenting greater opportunities for profitable business and social activities, in the same ratio does our chance of profits and our ability to enjoy increased social pursuits present themselves. So that is the reason we say—be loyal to our home town, if for no reason than that we will profit ourselves by doing so.

Except for Grayling American Legion Post holding services on Memorial day, it was pretty quiet around Grayling. Services were held at the Frederic cemetery as usual, the graves of the departed ex-service men having been previously decorated with flags and plants. Also in Grayling the graves were decorated Wednesday evening and at 10:00 o'clock on Memorial day the local ex-service men formed in a body at their hall and headed by the colors and the Post banner marched to the cemetery and held services. BASKET BALL TEAMS RECEIVE FAVORS

The boys and girls of Grayling high school basketball teams are happy over having received favors in token of honors they brot to their school.

Gold basket ball watch fobs were presented the boys who were as follows: Elmer Fenton, Charles Wylie, Elmer Neal, Francis Brady and Kendall Stinchcomb.

The boys had a most successful season, losing only one game. They won the district championship and played in the finals in the regional tournament at Mt. Pleasant.

The girls received gold pendants. The lucky ones are Elizabeth Matson, Mary Esther Schumann, Clara Bugby, Margaret Warren, Lillian Swanson, Elizabeth Swanson and Irene Randolph.

The girls team lost but one game—at Boyne City and claim championship for North Eastern Michigan. Every player was a credit to the team and each team was a credit to its school and city. The moments which they were honored only partly bespeak the esteem in which these two teams are held by the citizens of Grayling.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

House Passes Tariff Bill Boosting the Duties on Nearly All Articles.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

IMPORT duties on many agricultural and industrial products are raised to new high levels by the Hawley tariff bill which was passed by the house of representatives. The final vote was 224 to 147. Twelve Republicans voted against the measure, but on the other hand twenty Democrats, mostly from the Southern states, voted for it. The dozen Republicans in opposition were: A. H. Andersen, Victor Christgau, Frank Clague, G. G. Goodwin and C. G. Selvig (Minn.), Merlin Hull (Wis.), E. H. Campbell (Iowa), C. A. Christopherson (S. D.), T. J. Halsey (Mo.), W. P. Lambertson (Kan.), F. H. La Guardia (N. Y.), and James M. Beck (Pa.).

The Republicans from central agricultural states voted against the bill, chiefly because of failure to boost duties on dairy and other farm products high enough and because of the imposition of duties on building materials. The increased duty on sugar was the chief reason for the adverse vote of Representative La Guardia.

All of the more important changes made in the tariff by the measure are upward except that the rates on children's books are reduced. So, too, is the rate on carillons, if any.

The bill ends the terms of members of the present bipartisan tariff commission and provides for the appointment of seven new members on a nonpartisan basis, with salaries of $12,000. The flexible tariff system is retained, but with a change in formula for the ascertainment of costs.

The senate finance committee, to whose hands the Hawley bill is now committed, will take several months to rewrite the measure, after which it will be debated by the senators. During that period, it is hoped, congress can take a recess and escape some of the hot weather.

BY THE decisive vote of 57 to 20 the senate passed the combined census-reapportionment bill that was so obnoxious to the dregs of the South. Its main features have been told here in these columns. Passage of the measure by the house was considered a certainty.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S first Memorial day address, delivered at Arlington National cemetery, was an earnest plea to all the nations of the world to join in the peace movement by making the Kellogg pact effective. He urged that they all reduce their naval armaments and navy building programs to the limit required by the needs of national defense. The maintenance of permanent peace, the President declared, would be the highest honor that could be accorded the memory of those who had died in war.

MRS. MABEL WILLEBRANDT resigned as assistant attorney general in charge of dry law prosecutions, and the President accepted the resignation in a letter expressing deep regret at her leaving the government service and appreciation of the work she has done. She is to become Washington counsel for the Aviation corporation.

Reports that Mrs. Willebrandt planned to leave the government had been current since it became known that President Hoover had no intention of placing her in charge of all prohibition enforcement when the dry bureau is transferred from the Treasury department to the Department of Justice. It was stated in Washington that Mr. Hoover would not select Mrs. Willebrandt's successor until about the time she retires, which will be June 15.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S special law enforcement commission held its first meetings and began the work of organization to get in readiness for its gigantic task which it is believed will keep it busy for two years. In a brief address to the commission the President said:

"It is my hope that the commission shall secure an accurate determination of fact and cause, following them with constructive, courageous conclusions which will bring public understanding and command public support of its solutions. The general public approval of the necessity for the creation of this commission and of the extraordinary universality of approval of its membership are in themselves evidences of the responsibility that lies upon you and of the great public concern in your task and of the hopes that you may succeed."

"I do pray for the success of your endeavors, for by such success you will have performed one of the greatest services to our generation."

COL. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH

and Miss Anne Morrow were married Monday afternoon at the Morrow estate just outside of Englewood, N. J., and the cohorts of reporters and news photographers, who have dogged every move of the young couple, knew nothing about it until the affair was all over and the bride and groom had sped away in an automobile. Much as the people of the United States are interested in Lindy and his doings, a gleeful chuckle ran all across the continent when it was learned that he had put one over on the press and camera men. The wedding ceremony was of the simplest, with no bridesmaid or best man and with only members of the families present. The nuptial services were conducted by Rev. Dr. William Adams Brown of Union Theological seminary, a close friend of Ambassador Morrow. At its conclusion Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh entered a waiting automobile, cleverly evaded pursuing reporters who thought they were just going for a ride, and disappeared entirely from the ken of the public.

MME. ROSIKA SCHWIMMER'S long fight for naturalization in the United States came to an end when the Supreme court affirmed the decision of the Chicago Federal District court that the famous Hungarian radical and pacifist is unfit for American citizenship. The majority of the high tribunal, in an opinion read by Justice Butler, reversed the Circuit Court of Appeals and found with the Chicago District court, that Mademoiselle Schwimmer's admitted lack of nationalistic sense and boasted "uncompromising pacifism" make her "unable to be incapable of that attachment for and devotion to the principles of our Constitution that is required of aliens seeking naturalization." Justices Holmes, Brandeis and Sanford dissented.

ANOTHER decision by the Supreme court upheld the Presidential "pocket vetoes" which have been used by nearly all Presidents to kill legislation they deemed undesirable. The opinion interpreted for the first time that section of the Constitution which provides that bills not signed by the President within ten days or returned without his signature before congress adjourns shall not become law. It came as a blow to those advocates of government ownership and operation who insisted that the Muscle Shoals resolution, "pocket vetoed" by President Coolidge at the end of the first session of the last congress, became law without his signature.

Senator Norris at once introduced another resolution identical with the one killed, and it was reported favorably by the committee on agriculture, but the Nebraska bill had little hope that the senate could act on it before the summer recess.

THERE is a great to-do over governmental affairs in the Philippines. Insular Auditor Ben F. Wright refused to issue a certificate releasing the million-dollar fund for a wharf development scheme at the city of Ololo, asserting the contract was invalid. He was sentenced to prison for this refusal but has been set free by a habeas corpus writ granted by Supreme Court Justice Street, and thus the case will come before the full court in July. Americans in the islands say Mr. Wright sought to protect American funds and faced the penitentiary for protecting the treasury, which in turn represents millions in bonds issued by the bureau of public works and chiefly held by Americans. If he loses in the island courts he contemplates carrying the case to the Supreme court of the United States. Opposed to Mr. Wright are Manuel Quezon and his followers, who are striving for complete autonomy.

PEACE, at least to a degree, has come to Elizabethton, Tenn., for the striking workers in the textile mills voted to accept the terms of the employers and apply for reinstatement in their old jobs. The settlement was largely due to the efforts of Miss Anna Weinstock, who was sent to the scene by the federal Department of Labor. She obtained from the rayon mills an offer that was much more conciliatory than any previously made. The companies agreed not to discriminate against any former employee because of his or her affiliation with the union, provided the employee's activities were legitimate and were not carried on at the plants. The management agrees to meet a committee of employees for the purpose of adjusting any grievance.

THERE was great excitement among the universities of the Middle West when the faculty committee of the Western Conference, usually known as the Big Ten, expelled the University of Iowa from the conference, effective January 1, 1930. Put in a few words, the reason for this drastic action was that Iowa had been administering so-called athletic funds for the support of individual athletes. The Iowa authorities, from President Jessup down, professed to be exceedingly surprised by the expulsion, and the student body in Iowa City was tremendously worked up. There were ominous threats that the action would result in the breaking up of the Western Conference because other institutions also were vulnerable. It seems not unlikely that the date of actual expulsion was set so far ahead in order that the trouble might be adjusted meanwhile and Iowa permitted to retain her membership, and there are predictions that this is what will happen.

The championship track and field meet of the Big Ten was held at Northwestern just before Iowa was expelled, and was won by the University of Illinois. Two new world records were set. Tolon, young colored sprinter of the University of Michigan, ran 100 yards in 10 5-10 seconds; and Rockaway of Ohio State university negotiated the 220 yards low hurdles in 22 8-10 seconds.

RAY KEECH won the 500 mile automobile race in Indianapolis, his average speed being 95.585 miles an hour. Louie Meyer was second. Billy Spence was killed when his car was overturned. Out of thirty-three starters, thirteen finished, dividing the prize money of $100,000.

JAMES KELLY and R. L. Robbins, flying a re-conditioned plane over Fort Worth, Texas, shattered all records for sustained flight, remaining up for 172 hours and 81 minutes. They came down then only because their propeller blades had been cracked by hail. Lieut. W. G. Tomlinson of the navy won the Curtiss seaplane trophy, making a new speed record of 175 miles an hour.

REPARATIONS experts reached an almost complete agreement in Paris and if the German reservations can be adjusted the great problem will soon be solved. As the plan stands Germany will pay a total of about eight and a half billion dollars over a period of fifty-eight years, the annuity figure being approximately $487,000,000. Payments under this Young plan are to begin on September 1. The matter of early evacuation of the Rhineland, being purely political, was not considered by the experts. THE WEEK IN WASHINGTON

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff)

Up to a few days ago it was believed that as soon as the Tariff Bill had passed the House, a recess of two months would be taken by that body to await action by the Senate on this measure, but this has been dispelled by an announcement from the White House to the effect that no recess would be approved by the President until farm legislation is adopted and the Senate has entered into a unanimous consent agreement to vote upon the tariff bill upon some specified date. The Speaker of the House and the Majority Leader in the House have stated that the House will not consider a recess until the Senate fixes a final date for the vote on the tariff bill. This conclusion to defer the recess was reached after conferences between them and the President, and announced June 1st. It had been tentatively announced by the House Leaders that the House would recess June 12 until Sept. 9, providing the Senate could agree to vote on the tariff bill by November 9, but this has been upset by the developments mentioned.

The House will vote on the passage of the Census and Reapportionment bill June 4. This bill was forced through the Senate almost entirely due to the persistent activities of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan. The bill provides for the 1930 and all subsequent decennial censuses and for automatic reapportionment of the membership of the House. The enactment of this measure means that the Bureau of the Census will complete its organization and do the actual work of taking the census in November, 1929, and that as far as reapportionment of Members of the House is concerned, the State of Michigan will gain four new members, to which it is entitled on its gain in population since 1910.

Section 6 of the Census Bill as it passed the Senate provides: "That the census of the population and of agriculture required by Section 1 of this Act shall be taken as of the 1st day of November, and it shall be the duty of each enumerator to commence the enumeration of his district on the day following, unless the Director of the Census in his discretion shall change the date of commencement of the enumeration in said district by reason of climatic or other conditions which would materially interfere with the proper conduct of the duty; but in any event it shall be the duty of each enumerator to prepare the returns herebefore required to be made and to forward the same to the Supervisor of his district within thirty days from the commencement of the enumeration of his district."

The counties of Osceola and Mecosta will be in the fifth Census District with headquarters at Alpena.

Enumerators will be appointed by the Supervisors in the headquarters cities, but the appointment of enumerators will not be made for several months yet, as it is not necessary to complete the organization until after the 1st of September.

EDUCATIONAL PREPARATION A GROWING REQUIREMENT FOR SUCCESS IN MODERN BUSINESS

Death-Knell Sounded for Guesswork and Slipshod Methods by Advancing Technical Proficiency in Finance, Trade and Industry—How Banks Are Developing a Professionally Qualified Generation of Younger Bankers.

By HAROLD STONIER
American Bankers Association

THE great school of Experience is still holding classes in America, but the scientific spirit of the age has so generally invaded the workshops of industry and trade that they have largely become technical research and training laboratories in themselves and are no longer run on the old-fashioned cut-and-try methods of former generations when Experience was considered the only teacher. It would be hard to find a working force in any pre-eminent successful business or industrial organization in the United States today but what the dominating leadership is schooled in the scientific principles of its specific field, whether manufacturing, merchandising or finance. The rapidly advancing standards of business in this country, with their relentless demands for efficiency as the only hope for survival in the competitive struggle for economic existence, has sounded the death-knell for guesswork and slipshod methods.

HAROLD STONIER

As a result, educational preparation in the techniques of commerce, industry and finance are virtually essential to outstanding success in these fields, as it is already an absolute prerequisite in the various recognized professions. This is not to depreciate the value of native ability and experience in business, but education after all is merely a means for helping the individual to apply the net good of the accumulated experience of many to his own day's work—a means for helping special native ability to come into its own more rapidly and surely and for enabling all classes of ability to gain the maximum of success to which they are entitled.

These facts are plainly recognized by practical, work-a-day business in every line. Every progressive business organization in America is emphasizing the importance of education as never before. Education has come to be looked upon as the answer to many of the problems within the organization as well as to problems affecting industry as a whole.

Business Organizing Institutes
Institutes for developing specifically qualified workers are being operated or organized in many fields of commercial and industrial activity. These institutes are trying various types of educational work with a distinct trend toward more and more emphasis upon education for the rank and file of business employees of all grades.

We have been having business failures in this country at the rate of about 2,000 a month. This score speaks for itself. It is glaring evidence of incompetence on the part of thousands of business men in handling the problems inherent in their fields of endeavor. The detailed records show that practically 75% of business failure in this country is due to lack of training and competence on the part of those who failed. This is conclusive evidence that no one can afford to undertake executive business responsibilities without adequate education and training. It is for that reason that every enlightened business organization is today insisting as never before that its employees take advantage of some type of technical training.

American banking is fortunate and has just cause for pride in that it has a record of twenty-eight years of definitely organized educational activity among its workers to its credit for developing trained bankers. People in banks in large numbers are taking advantage of the educational opportunity given by the great non-commercial college of the banking business, the American Institute of Banking. They see on every hand evidences of the value of the training it gives. Of the 10,000 graduates of this institute, 70% now occupy official positions in American banks. The other 30% are still too young to have attained such heights. Here is an example and an encouragement to the people of all lines of business.

The American Institute of Banking has a membership of 64,320. Of these 33,851 are class enrollees, comprising younger bank people, both men and women, who are learning the scientific technique of their chosen business at the same time they are engaged in the practical work of earning their livings at it. The difference between the 33,851 enrolled in classes and the 64,320 total membership comprises older bankers who have taken the institute courses in the past or are at the present time sponsoring some type of educational work in the organization.

Banking Educates Its People
It has been estimated that there are probably 375,000 bank officers and employees in the United States at the present time. These figures would mean that about one banker in every six is either enrolled in institute classes in banking or is actively supporting some educational function of the organization. No statement could possibly give more emphasis to the importance placed on education by the banking interests of America than these facts.

DOMESTIC RABBIT GOOD ANY TIME OF THE YEAR

Relatively few housewives in the eastern part of the United States are acquainted with the delicious flavor of domestic rabbit meat. Most of them have been accustomed to think of rabbit in terms of the cottontail rabbit, which is available only during a short open hunting season, or of the jack rabbit, which is generally considered more of a pest than an article of diet. Domestic hatch-raised rabbits may be eaten the year round, and there are now hundreds of domestic rabbit farms throughout the country where the animals are being raised for the market. The rabbit-raising industry is most flourishing in the West, particularly in California, but increasing interest in it is developing in the Eastern States also.

Hutch-raised rabbits are carefully bred and fed for table use. They eat rolled cereals, alfalfa hay, and leafy vegetables. The nature of their food makes the meat sweet, tender, and excellently flavored. It can be better compared with chicken than with wild rabbit. Rabbits raised in small hutches or on fur farms are cleanly in habits and can be produced under sanitary conditions.

Just as with poultry or with various cuts of meat, young, tender rabbits may be fried or roasted, while the older ones require longer, slow cooking. The Bureau of Home Economics has cooperated with the Bureau of Biological Survey in conducting experiments in the various methods of preparing domestic rabbit meat for the table and makes the following recommendations:

Young, tender rabbits may be fried or broiled, or if just a little larger than the frying or broiling stage, smothered according to the method southern cooks use for chicken. The older, larger rabbits may also be used for short orders by parboiling whole, then cutting into pieces suitable for serving, and frying in batter. Or they may be simmered and served with dumplings or used in chop suey or salad in the same way as chicken. Recipes will be furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture upon request.

OIL ENGINEER APPOINTED

Mr. Collin C. Rae, petroleum engineer, formerly with the U. S. Geological Survey on the administration of Indian oil lands, has been secured by the department of conservation to take active charge of oil and gas conservation work in Michigan. Mr. Rae who will report for duty on June 15th, will be accompanied by H. B. Soyster, oil and gas supervisor of the Michigan District, U. S. Geological Survey. Mr. Soyster, Mr. Rae, and Mr. Charles Caswell, the representative chosen by the Muskegon Oil and Gas Association, are to act as a pro-rata committee for the Muskegon oil field. The committee will spend about two weeks studying the conditions and conferring with the oil and gas operators as to the extent that production of oil and gas should be prorated to protect the field from danger of edge and bottom waters, and to secure the maximum amount of oil possible from the field. The field has a large amount of shut-in Dundee production because of the past ruinously low price of this oil, and the refusal of the purchasing agencies to take more than a fraction of the potential production. With recent higher prices and marketing outlets opening up there is a grave danger that the field will be ruined through wide-open flowing of the wells.

Water is certain to be brought in if the wells are flowed without a proper back-pressure to hold it in check. Some operators in Laketon township have discovered this to their sorrow.

After the prorata committee and the operators have worked out a prorata program, Mr. Rae will remain in charge to carry out the recommendations agreed upon.

1268 acres would make a big farm

AT Milford, Michigan, 1268 acres have been made—not into a farm—but into a Proving Ground for automobiles.

Long before your General Motors car is built, specimen models are sent to the Proving Ground. This fleet is tested in actual use. It has to meet every bad driving condition, from heart-breaking hills to slambang bumps.

But that isn't all. Other cars of American and European manufacture are bought and put through the same tests, so that General Motors always knows how its products compare with others.

The tests involve speed, power, endurance, braking, riding comfort, handling ease, fuel, oil and tire economy; body strength—every phase of car construction and performance.

When the specimen cars are finally able to meet every test, they are sent back to the factory. The car you buy is made exactly like them.

The next time you examine a General Motors car in your dealer's showroom, think of those 1268 acres. They would make a big farm. But they make a better promise of proved car value.

BOUQUETS FOR E. M. T. ANENT BOOKLET

The miniature booklet which the East Michigan Tourist association has been distributing through its members, entitled "Come to Michigan," has elicited considerable approbation from the members of the association. This booklet is small enough to attach to letters and members who aid in the distribution of the booklets mail it in their outgoing out-of-state letters. Encomiums regarding the booklet have come by mail and telephone.

Among two recently received communications with reference to the booklet are the following:
From John D. Dunphy, general passenger agent, Pere Marquette Railway Company, Detroit: "Your folder 'Come to Michigan,' is a very clever idea. I suppose you have copy-righted it. I have also seen a copy of your double-fold leaflet 'For Your Vacation—Michigan,' which is just as clever. I wish you all kinds of luck from these two publications."

From E. J. Leenhouts, general agricultural agent, New York Central Lines, Chicago: "I think that your little leaflet 'Come to Michigan' is one of the most clever ideas I have seen in some time, and I want to congratulate you. I do not know just how many of these we can use but I suggest that you send us 500. I refer, of course, to the small four-page leaflet used as a sticker."

TO PUBLISH NAMES OF GAME VIOLATORS

As a preventative measure the Commission of the Conservation Department and the Director, George R. Hogarth, have ordered that a list of game and fish law violators be compiled and mailed to the newspapers of the state each month. "We are interested primarily in prevention rather than punishment," said Director Hogarth, "and the net fines incurred by violators do not reimburse the state for the damage done to its resources. With the legitimate demands on our fish and game resources growing to stupendous proportions, there can be neither place or tolerance for the law violator."

"The fish and game resources of Michigan have been declared by the people to be the property of the State, to be taken by them in sport and for commercial purposes at certain stipulated times and in definite amounts. The individual who violates these provisions not only takes that which does not belong to him or her, but also incurs an expense to the State for apprehension and conviction."

A navy flier in Washington went 40,000 feet in the air and found it was seventy degrees below zero. This is different from the experience of the average fellow who finds that the more he goes up in the air the hotter he gets under the collar.

MOTOR OILS

You can trust

Polarine

Iso-Vis

It's a hard life for the modern motor! Traffic is congested. Engines are built with higher compressions. Cars are driven faster. Motors run hotter. Correct lubrication is more important than ever before. Only the richest and sturdiest motor oil will stand up under the strain!

Polarine will do it! Polarine is rich—sturdy—steadfast! It covers every frictional surface of the engine with a protecting cushion of oil.

By draining the crankcase every 500 miles and refilling with fresh Polarine, you insure satisfactory lubrication of your car—at minimum cost.

Iso-Vis is an oil of unusual quality. It lubricates the engine faithfully—to stand up under the strain of today's driving. Like Polarine, Iso-Vis is rich and sturdy and steadfast.

No need to drain the crankcase so frequently if you use Iso-Vis. This new type, constant viscosity motor oil gives a new type of lubrication service. It will not thin out! It wears and wears and wears!

For smooth motor miles—and a long life to your engine—use Polarine or Iso-Vis. They are dependable products of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). They are the motor oils you can trust.

WAR VETERANS TO BUILD AT HIGGINS LAKE

Higgins Lake will soon be graced with another nice development, being the tract of land owned by the Spanish-American War veterans adjacent the American Legion Camp on the west side of Higgins lake. Governor Green last week signed the bill passed by the legislature appropriating $18,000 that will go toward the construction of a building for the veterans' use. Representatives of the veterans' organization were here last week looking over the property and now have surveyors on the job laying out the land and getting things under way to start construction work. Plans are not yet complete for the building but it is understood that the cost will exceed the appropriation, probably amounting to around $20,000 or $22,000, the difference being made up by funds now on hand for the purpose. The veterans own approximately 1000 feet of lake frontage—Roscommon Herald-News.

HATCHING PHEASANTS

The first setting of 5,000 ring-neck pheasant eggs at the Mason game farm hatched last Friday and Saturday. With the propagation of the pheasant in full swing the game farm becomes one of the busiest places in the state. Not only must the breeding stock be cared for, hundreds of adults in separate pens of one cock and five hen birds that are now producing an average of 550 eggs a day; but the newly hatched chicks must be carried safely through the first few weeks of their lives which generally is the period of greatest danger. Preparations will soon start for the second setting, that will hatch about July 1st—the fourth of July is not a holiday on the Mason game farm for at that time there will be another four or five thousand newly hatched pheasant chicks demanding constant attention.

The pheasant eggs are set under the old reliable barnyard hen, twenty eggs to the setting. When we visited the game farm last week we were taken past the long lines of laying pens, past the clover fields in which the hens and their broods of pheasant chicks would later be placed, along a woodland path to the hatchery located in the center of a well-shaded piece of woods. There within a wire enclosure were the 300 nesting boxes, each occupied with a brooding hen patiently waiting the day when the twenty pheasant eggs beneath her would hatch into so many potential game birds to be later liberated in Michigan coverts to supply wild game for the three or four hundred thousand hunters next October.

The Moon Minus Atmosphere

Atmosphere may be termed a gaseous envelope made up of myriads of atoms and molecules of gases. Unless a body is sufficiently large that its gravitational force holds these atoms to it, it is void of atmosphere. The earth is sufficiently large, but smaller Mars has less dense atmosphere, while the very small moon has little at all.

NEWSPAPER IN THE MODERN TOWN CRIES

"Where are you going, Bart?" "Home for lunch, Grayling way!" "Say, I was just in the bank a minute ago, Ted Blaine the president, saw me and motioned me over into his office. Do you know what he told me? That the Johnson Flyer Company are opening up a factory here in town. That certainly will boost business!"

"Well now, that's fine. I am not surprised, though. This is an ideal location for industry, and the farmers here offer a fine local market. Wonder why more concerns haven't taken advantage of this locality?"

"That's just the point, Joe. Here, let me give you a simile. Your store might sell goods that are first rate, but unless you advertise, where's your business coming from? This town is fine for industry, but nobody outside of ourselves knew about it until the weekly started to give it some mighty fine free advertising by playing up our advantages."

"But those big manufacturers would never see the publicity given this town in the weekly!"

"Don't you believe it! The weekly may never get to the manufacturer's eye, but in these days of stiff competition, concerns are on the lookout for means to expand large-scale production cheaply. They hire specialists to make a research, and it just happened that one of these specialists came across a copy of the weekly in his investigation, read about our industrial advantages, investigated further, and now his concern will locate here. Our weekly is a hustling town crier, overlooking no chance to proclaim our advantages to the world."

The Discipline of Disappointment

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

It is not a good thing always to succeed, and though the proverb is that "nothing succeeds like success," there are times when success makes us careless, overconfident, so sure that nothing can happen to interfere with our reaching the goal toward which we are headed, that we grow careless and indifferent.

and though failure often discourages and success elates, yet there are times when it takes the shock of failure or disappointment to give the discipline upon which success is dependent, or which brings out the best in us.

Coffman has never had the discipline of disappointment. His lines have fallen in very pleasant places. He has had all his life whatever money can buy, whatever social and financial prominence can furnish. So far as the ordinary affairs of life are concerned he has never been disappointed. All he has had to do is to ask for whatever he wanted, to stretch out his hand, to speak, and it was his.

He has no understanding of people who have met misfortune, no sympathy for those who meet one reverse after another. He is selfish, a niggardly giver, a self-satisfied and rather arrogant citizen. The discipline of disappointment would have softened him, no doubt, and have made him more human in his sympathies.

Davis had always played baseball well from the time that he was old enough to get out in the back lot with the older fellows and bat a ball around, until he tried out for the college nine. He had always made good at his favorite game and had been captain of the team on which he played from the time he entered grade school until he got out of high school. Disappointment had never come his way when he was trying out for baseball. He was quite sure now of a place on the college nine, and he saw no particular reason why he should exert himself with any particular energy. The berth was going to be his, and he was sure of it.

The names of those who were to stay on the squad were to be posted in the afternoon and Davis wandered over to see who his teammates were to be. But his own name was not there. A little insignificant country boy by the name of Jones had the position which he had expected to fill. It was the first disappointment the boy had ever experienced and he felt it keenly.

Then he began to take stock of himself, and as he sat despondent with his head on his hand, it all came over him that he had been too cocky, too collected, too sure of himself. He had really not made the effort that he could have made, that he was, in fact, under every obligation to make. Disappointment was really coming to him. It was a good lesson for him. The next time he got into the pitcher's box, he did not swagger quite so much; he was more modest, more deliberate, and more accurate. The discipline of disappointment had taught him more self-control.

Was On Crutches Konjola Ended His Rheumatism

Remarkable Case Of New Medicine's Power Reported By Detroit Man

MR. HARRY A. PRISKEY
Konjola, the new and different medicine, seems at its very best when pitted against the obstinate cases that have defied all else tried. Take, for instance, the case of Mr. Harry A. Priskey, 3402 East Palmer avenue, Detroit.

"For weeks at a time," said Mr. Priskey, "rheumatism had me in bed. I thought I was lucky when I could get around on crutches. My limbs and feet were swollen and the pain was terrible. I tried no end of medicines and treatments, but nothing helped me. A friend suggested that I try Konjola, and the results exceeded my fondest hopes. In five weeks I was completely well and back to work. If anyone doubts my statement I will welcome a complete investigation. My friends are amazed, as I am, over what Konjola did for me in just five weeks."

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Professor Floyd Field, mathematics teacher and dean of men at the George School of Technology, has bought a new Model A Ford automobile after the exceedingly serviceable career of his old Model T. He drove the old car, which he still owns, 150,000 miles, a distance equal to six trips around the world. He burned 10,000 gallons of gasoline and wore out 17 sets of tires.

MAKING IT TOUGH FOR NOXIOUS FISH

The noxious fish of Michigan waters are going to have hard sailing from June 1st. About this time of the year when the lakes are warming up to above 60 degrees the dog-fish and the long and short billed gar-fish turn their attention to the matter of propagating their kind, and betake themselves to the shallow sandy or pebbly shores of lake waters to lay their eggs and hatch their undesirable offspring. Now these species are a kind of public nuisance in that they are of no game or food value and in that they subvert to a certain extent on the young of the game and commercial species. Because of this fact, Mr. F. A. Westerman, chief of the fish division of the conservation department has requested conservation officers throughout the state to assist in reducing the numbers of dog-fish and garfish in the rivers and lakes in their districts by spearing them as they appear in shoal water to spawn.

Grayling Independent baseball team defeated the Rosecommon team on the local diamond on the afternoon of Decoration day by a score of 21 to 1. Laurant and Pankow were the battery for Grayling. Last Sunday it was a different story altogether when Grayling went to Lewiston and met defeat at the hands of that team by a score of 5 and 3. Some of the old-timers have gotten a team together and are enjoying the sport that at one time Grayling was famous for.

Miss Margrethe Bauman was hostess to a few friends on Saturday afternoon at a bridge luncheon in honor of Mrs. Kenneth Bobbly of Detroit and Mrs. Albert Rumsey of Lansing. Luncheon was served at the Bohnmeyer Tea Rooms. The afternoon was spent playing bridge, Mrs. Marius Hanson receiving the high score prize and the guests of honor received guest prizes.

The former is just able to get around again by the aid of a crutch after severe injuries suffered in an auto accident early this spring. S. 27, says that this will be the finest pavement in the state—in smoothness, color, contour and general appearance. The work on the paving is going on at a good pace and the job is nearly half finished. There is every reason to believe that the work will be finished and ready for use by July 4th.

Seven straight victories is the record of the Grayling High school baseball team and is one to be proud of. Defeating West Branch High School last week Wednesday by a score of 7 to 2 and Gaylord Saturday 6 and 5 is their latest achievements. The game at West Branch was marked by fine fielding by the team and a home run by Neal Sheehy on the mound for the locals and Loskos behind the bat did fine work; the former pitching the full nine-inning game. Saturday's game with Gaylord was a whiz, with a good crowd of rooters on the side lines which were much appreciated. Up to the fifth inning the score stood 8 and 0 in Grayling's favor, when Gaylord ran in five scores, all on costly errors. It looked then as though Grayling was done for, but in the sixth, with the bases loaded, Brady came to bat with a broad smile on his face and slammed the ball for a two bagger over the left fielder's head bringing in three scores and clinching the game for the home team. Schmidt, pitching for Grayling and Andrews for Gaylord did themselves proud in the pitchers box. The final score was 6 and 8.

Mrs. Anna Gross is the new clerk in the Atkinson grocery.

The American Legion is having a new porch built on the front of their hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barber spent the week end at Fife Lake, visiting relatives.

Frank LaMotte, who is employed in Detroit spent the week end with his family here.

Robert Burrows of Cheboygan spent the week end here visiting his brother Arnold and family.

Miss Emma Hendrickson left Tuesday night for Lansing to take the State examination for nurses.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Hathaway of Lake Orion stopped over in Grayling Saturday and Sunday while on a return auto trip from Mackinaw City.

Mrs. Susie Magoun and son Billy Wythe of Battle Creek and Mrs. Minerva Allen of Potterville were guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. Paul Feldhauser and family from Thursday to Monday.

Otto Seidel and H. A. McMillan and the latter's daughter Kathryn left for Flint Sunday and were accompanied by Mrs. Jerry Sherman, who went to consult Dr. O'Neil of that city concerning her health. Dr. O'Neil is an old friend of the Sherman family and years ago was located at Frederic.

Ben Jerome and family were guests at the M. A. Bates home over the week end. Ben naturally got in on the trout fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hermann of Lansing also were home at the Bates domicile, and Alfred started on Decoration day to keep the table well supplied with trout. He had some fine catches.

Mrs. Melvin A. Bates enjoyed a visit from an old schoolmate last week, Mrs. Nettie Duffaney of Belgium, N. Y. The two ladies enjoyed talking over their very first days of school quite a number of years ago, when they entered kindergarten together, at Newbridge, N. Y. Mrs. Duffaney remained until Sunday and was accompanied to Lansing by Mr. and Mrs. Bates, and Mrs. Saloma Simpson, who is visiting at the Bates home.

The old-mill, which for a half century was owned and operated by Salling Hanson Co., has been purchased by The Northern Salvage Co., and will ultimately be razed. The mill ceased operations about two years ago since which time it was owned by Esbern Hanson. This is the last of Grayling's once famous saw mills and has been our most prominent landmark for many years. Although it has been idle for about two years still many will be sorry to see it removed. Around it is woven much history that carries with it many fond memories. Harold Jarvin, who with Harry Helper is a member of the firm of The Northern Salvage Co., says that he doubts that they will be ready to remove it this year as their firm has work ahead of them that will keep them busy for many months.

7th Straight Victory For Grayling By Defeating Gaylord 6-5

Grayling High School finished its regular baseball schedule, without a defeat last week and has laid claim to the class C championship of the State.

Wednesday, Grayling defeated
West Branch High School 7-2 at West Branch. Sheehy pitched the full game for the locals and turned in a fine card. Neal got the longest hit of the game. It was a home run which came in the second inning after two were out with no one on base.

Saturday Grayling defeated Gaylord in the best game of the season, the score being 6 to 5.

Gaylord staged a rally in the third inning which netted them all their runs. Brady won the game for the locals by hitting a two base hit with the bases full, scoring all three men, putting Grayling ahead. They held the northerners in check for the rest of the game.

The baseball men enjoyed the supper much better than they did the basketball banquet which they never had.

It won't be long now before we can throw away our school books and all the trifling necessities of school life for a rod and reel, swimming suit, or books. There is general excitement this time of year and the poem below is a typical thought of every G. H. S. student.

Vacation time is just ahead.

But ere that comes a time of dread;
Dread of the tests that thick and fast

Are means of knowing if one's passed,
While bees go humming thru the air

Without a trace of thought or care.

The Seniors have been planning their Skip Day program and so far the only things one hears are: "What are you dressing up in?" "Are you wearing your sport outfit?" etc.

If you're wondering why a certain teacher by the cognomen of Miss Estee has so many rings, ask any member of her first hour History class.

There will be a general cleanup during this week in Lab. Miss Lewis is making a complete checking list of chemicals and other lab paraphernalia.
The students are checking up on their materials also.

The English Literature classes, the American History classes, Shortland and Chemistry classes are finishing their books this week.

This is the last edition of School Notes for this year and the students wish to thank the teachers and others for helping make them of interest during the past year. We wish to see all our teachers back in place by next year, good natured and happy.

The Grayling High School baseball team hasn't lost a game this spring.
No wonder the students are feeling so elated. We celebrated our victories by having a snake-dance on the new pavement Friday evening and another one Saturday.

The Senior class had "Skip Day" Tuesday. They left at 8:30 o'clock for a trip to Mackinaw and Petoskey.
Everyone is working unusually hard now, preparing for the final exams.

The Senior class has asked Rev.
Greenwood to preach the Baccalaureate sermon. The service will be held in the M. E. church next Sunday evening. The music will be furnished by Mrs. C. G. Clippert.

Everyone is busy collecting "loose-ends" about their work preparing for final exams.

The Junior class rings arrived
Monday and all the Juniors can now be distinguished by their distinguished looking rings.

The English Lit. classes have completed their books.

Junior Class Gives Fine Assembly
On Wednesday of last week the Junior class entertained the High School with a program in commemoration of "Memorial Day". Everything went off fine. The program was as follows:

1 Patriotic songs by the school—
Led by Miss Quackenbush and Mr.
Hill.

2 The address to an Unknown Soldier—Mary Mahneke.

3 A Russian Rhapsody (Edward Hesseburg)—Miss Quackenbush.

4 Flanders Field—Marie Buck.

America's Answer—Elaine Mc-Donald.

Account of Author's Life—Harvey Regan.

5 Songs by the school.

6 Talk—Mr. C. N. Hill.

Many students were absent from school last Friday, due to the Decoration Day holiday.

Miss VanDyne is back in school after a week of absence spent at her home in Mt. Pleasant.

Miss Richard spent Memorial Day at the home of her parents in Alma.
Illness prevented her from attending school Friday.

Wm. Garner was in Detroit last week. He returned with the family car.

Basketball Medals
May 31, 1929, the teams were presented with medals and watch fobs.
Mr. Bates in behalf of the Board of Education spoke to the Assembly, then presented a medal to each of the girls of the team: Elizabeth Matson, Capt. Clara Bugby, Margaret Warren, Mary Schumann, Lillian and Elizabeth Swanson and Irene Randolph. The boys were given watch fobs that were small gold basket balls with a green raised G. Five were given out to Charles Wylie, Elmer Neal, Kendall Stinchcomb, Elmer Fenton, and Francis Brady.

A pep meeting was held directly after the presentation of the basketball fobs and medals. Yells and songs got us in practice for the ball game Saturday which "We" won. At o. that night a snake-dance was held on the new pavement down-town.
Yells and songs again convinced the people we were out to win, Saturday.

The Geometry class has started working in the books again.

The Caesar class is reviewing the life of Caesar. They are getting ready for the "Final."

The Seniors are busy addressing their invitations and supplying everyone that asks them for a card.

Miss Richards was absent Friday of last week???

Alva and "Steve" Stephan and Lewis Engle were absent last week.

We, the Juniors, wish to announce that we are well satisfied with something for once. It is our rings.

Are all your book reports in? If not, better hurry up.

Those front seats must have some attraction. How about it, Georgianna?

BASS FISHING DATES UNCHANG- ED THIS YEAR

The Inland Fishing bill controlling the opening season for fishing in inland streams and lakes in Michigan fixes the opening of the bass season at June 15th, but inasmuch as the bill was not given immediate effect, this date will not apply for the year 1929, so the opening season for bass fishing will be the same as in the past. Therefore, the opening season to the inland lakes of Michigan for the catching of bass will open this year on June 18th, and he desires this matter to be given as much publicity as possible so that tourists and others interested, may be notified that there has been no change in the opening of the bass season.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Why Flowers Are Not Green

Flowers are not green because if they were they would not be noticed by insects. The propagation of flowering plants depends upon pollination with others like it. Insects traveling from one flower to another do most to bring about this fertilization which makes for reproduction. The colors of petals help the insect find the flowers

Who gets the extra mileage
-- you or friction?

Friction does not wait to take the last ten or twenty thousand miles. If the lubricant in your engine does not have sufficient body—friction breaks thru. Wear occurs. Mileage, in terms of motor life, is lost forever.

"Use a heavier oil," you say? Not necessarily. If motor oil body is too heavy—even slightly so—friction sets up an "oil-drag." Result: Loss of power and pick-up . . . Decreased efficiency and responsiveness . . . Gasoline mileage greatly lessened—as much as 20 per cent in some cases.

In developing the correct grade of Shell Motor Oil for every car, Shell engineers took these and many other factors into account. That is why thousands of automobile owners are finding in Shell Motor Oil that fine balance of qualities which insures proper lubrication.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil confidently depend on it to provide ideal body throughout the full range of operating temperatures . . . to retain its lubricating qualities under long and grueling service . . . to finish the 500th mile as fit and fresh as it started the first.

Shell Motor Oil has stamina . . . courage . . . a fighting heart. It won't break down. Forming a perfect fluid seal between piston ring and cylinder wall, Shell Motor Oil helps retain power and compression.
—Adds improved efficiency to proper lubrication.

Shell Motor Oil is today's outstanding contribution to the science of automobile lubrication. Only Nature's richest lubricating crude forms the base of Shell. Shell-developed, low-temperature refining prepares this virgin stock for use . . . gives it the body and stamina which have never lost a battle to heat and friction. And before it reaches you, it must pass 259 relentless tests which check and certify the rich, unvarying quality of every quart.

That quality covers every essential—provides every one of the four requirements of complete and thorough lubrication: Ideal Body plus Low Carbon Content, Soft Carbon, and Low Pour Point.
